Reflexology

Universal College of Reflexology's basic Foot Reflexology training (under-graduate program) has increased its training from their current 150 hours (more than any other similar program in Canada) to 250 hours. In so doing they are leaping forward technologically and now delivering our programs through the virtual classroom. It improves our graphics, videos, power points, telecommunications, and allows our students the luxury of time with direction from our faculty to do one lesson at a time. Plus they have added a bonus of a free startup your own clinic program from their Entrepreneur's Training faculty.
